About This Game

"I'M IN DANGER, YOUR IN DANGER, AND I'M GOING TO STOP THEM"

Behind These Eyes is a unique, exciting, and terrifying new horror game. Take control of protagonist Moribu, in his epic fight to overcome his penetrating fear, and save those he holds most dear.

"I COULDN'T STOP YOU, AND NIETHER WILL YOU STOP ME"

Moribu barely escaped his fellow gang members after attempting to leave the group for a better life. Now, seen as a potential threat to the rest of the gang, he is under attack. Having evaded his enemies until now, something has changed. They have threatened his loved ones. However, there is one condition. If he gives himself up to his gang, to be tortured and potentially murdered, he could save them from death. It's time to make a move...

Moribu decides the best way to save his friends and avoid the inevitable torture if he gives himself up to his gang, is taking his own life. However, something happens. Something goes - wrong? Something worse than what Moribu originally attempted to avoid, has just become a reality.

A strange feeling comes over Moribu as he wakes up in a dark and filthy alley.

"I can't feel a thing".

He looks up to see a man standing above him in the darkness.

"Hey, newcomer. Need some help?".

While Behind These Eyes incorporates many of your typical horror game elements, I have made it a main priority to set it apart from other games of the genre. Having played many horror games, I have found most of them to lack in their ability to tell an interesting story. In Behind These Eyes I have put alot of effort into creating a storyline that is deep and engrossing, keeping players eager to unravel the whole story.

I have also put extensive effort into the puzzles that face the player. Most horror games go no further than a maze or two, but I have gone a few steps beyond all that. Complete various unique, never before seen puzzles (as well as a few horror classics), with just the right difficulty curve for all players.

And finally, the horror atmosphere. With an unsettling world, an ambience that's just slightly discomforting, and a good scare every now and then, you'll find fear lurking around every corner, unavoidable to veteran horror gamers, and players new to the genre alike.

An average play-through of the game is about 30 minutes.

The fear within your mind has just become the fear within your world... Goodbye.

i want to recommend this game as the graphics for an indie game are quite good. they did a very good job of making a scary atmosphere. however the problem is the lack of anything worth while. all together there is a total of 2 semi jumpscare and thats it. no monster or any real way to lose. the story is also janky and feels like you're playing a sequel. not to mention numerous bugs. and all together it took about 20 minutes to beat.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IHQImZR2XoU&feature=youtu.be>. THIS GAME IS SO DISAPPOINTING I SEE THAT IT SAYS SHORT GAME BUT DUDE IT WAS MORE LIKE A 10 MINUTE GAME AND THE STORY WAS REALLY BAD I DONT RECOMMEND THIS GAME TO ANYONE DO NOT BUY THIS GAME SHOULD HAVE ONLY BEEN 5 CENTS.. Ever played around with a mod or game engine, and built something simple just to get something to work? It's like that, but released on Steam with a price.. Just please don't buy this game, is just trash.... I got halfway through the game and I pressed pause (escape) and when I wanted to continue it just froze there is no checkpoints in the game and you cannot save your progress either its not a long game but still. I dont recommend this game.. Gameplay is roughly 20 minutes. Puzzles are pretty easy. The game looks great, considering it's a solo effort. Only problem I had was that there was no sound after the intro cinematic. I have emailed the dev about it, so hopefully it will be fixed and I'll give it another go. I'll be the first to write a review. Had some issues with the download but the developer fixed it within 12 hours. (def brownie points there). I am not one to judge for horror because nothing scares me. Im sure others would think creepy maze games are scary, but I have yet to find a game in VR or PC that actually "scares me". So if you're a person that gets creeped out easily, you would like this.

Must give props to the developer though. Its not some big A+ studio creating it. He's a single developer and I respect that As an artist I know that creating stuff for others is tough!

Overall, for the $2.59, helps support the artist. Hes got a great idea-just need to expand it. Well worth the 3 bucks. There are games that are $9.99 that are way worse!
